

GPM Course Certified Project Manager (IPMA® Level C)
GPM Course Certified Senior Project Manager (IPMA® Level B)
Description LG 23-1755E

Target group

Project managers and sub-project managers in complex projects, heads of PMO, managers of project controlling, heads of quality management in projects.

Goal & benefits

You will expand your PM knowledge in the area of agile, classic and hybrid process models, among others, and will thus be able to confidently manage projects with limited complexity (level C) or complex projects (level B).

Course concept

Within 6 days of full-day Live-Online-Training in a virtual classroom you expand your know-how acquired in the level D course by means of trainer presentations, assignments, discussions, role plays and feedback from the other participants.

In the self-study phases between the course days, you will prepare yourself for the written exam, the assessment workshop and your interview by specifically working through the course documents and by preparing the level C report or level B report.

After you have passed the voluntary certificate exam, you will receive your globally recognised certificate Certified Project Manager (IPMA® Level C) or Certified Senior Project Manager (IPMA® Level B).

Admission requirements for the IPMA® Level C certification process

Proof of at least 3 years of experience in a responsible project management role of moderately complex projects or at least 3 years of experience in a responsible sub-project management role of complex projects within the last 6 years - starting from the certification month.

Admission requirements for the IPMA® Level B certification process

Proof of at least 5 years of experience in a responsible project management role, 3 years thereof in a responsible leadership and management role in complex projects, within the last 8 years - starting from the certification month.

Premium quality in project management

Only recognised, carefully selected and experienced project management trainers are allowed to give the GPM courses. They have been certified as trainers in a comprehensive assessment by the certification body PM-ZERT and, in a further audit process, authorised by the GPM to give courses independently.

Only trainers holding the designation „Autorisierter Trainingspartner (GPM)®“ (Authorised training partner (GPM)®) meet the quality criteria of the GPM and are allowed to offer courses according to GPM standards. Johannes Voss is an Autorisierter Trainingspartner GPM® and Benchmark-Trainer GPM® 2014 - 2019. He is therefore one of the top PM trainers in Germany.
